

Professional Practice Evaluation

All physicians are required to complete Professional Practice Evaluation, a practice improvement approach consisting of regularly comparing professional practices and the results obtained on the basis of professional guidelines.

Professional Practice Evaluation is integrated into several programmes:

- Health institution certification,
- Physician accreditation programme,
- Continuous Professional Development (DPC)

Approved by the Haute Autorité de la Santé, the CFAR can assist you in this approach.

CFAR PPE programmes:

CFAR PPE programmes are elaborated on the basis of scientific guidelines produced by the SFAR. These programmes are designed to simply evaluate everyday practices on specific topics, by means of various methods: clinical audit, clinical pathway, monitoring of indicators, etc.

Each programme contains a number of endpoints that can be used by participants to analyse their practices.

Several themes directly concern our speciality: anaesthesia, intensive care, emergency department, etc. The theme adopted must be directly related to the activity and must provide a potential for improvement.

Regardless of the programme and method chosen, a PPE action must result in at least partial improvement of everyday practice.
